If the animal be exposed to great cold without exirs food it cannot fatten. The reston therefore, that animals protected from the cold of winter fattes much faster than when exposed is that what would accumulate as fat is used in keeping the animal warm. The earthy or inorganic matter in plants is as necessary for ani mal growth as the organic matter. The bony skeleton consists chiefly of exictum phosphate, with a little calcium carbonate and other mineral substances derived from plants. While plants contain everything necessary for an email growth some portions are richer in salts and hitrogenous material, and are therefore considered to be of more value, as the grain of wheat, corn and oats. Foods differ greatly in value, as every farmer knows. Many experiments have been under to determine the feeding powers of the various kinds of food, and chaptered tables have been drawed. drawa up to express their compartive value.

Macon, Ga., March 31 1879. From having been intimate with the proprie-tors of "Swift's Syphilitic Specific," I have known much of its manufacture and use. There are men in this community who were victims in early life to Syphilis, and who have taken the S. S. S. medicinc, and are now, to all appearances and in their own belief, as free from thint of disease as the first man, fresh from the hands of his Maker. Delicacy forbids their public recommendations, but I am allowed to refer the commendations, but I sm allowed to refer the skeptic privately to those who will endorse everything that can be said in its favor. Being professionally much opposed to recommending secret remedies, it is with hesitation I attach my associated the second of the stricker of the same to this article; but I know whereof I speak when I say our science has not made public combination equal to "Swift's Syphilitic Specific" for the purpose indicated.
